Alpine Veterinary Clinic, Omak

Denise Krytenberg came to the SBDC to get help purchasing a veterinary clinic in Omak. She was a new veterinary graduate and had been working at the clinic as a veterinarian for over five years. Denise requested SBDC assistance with the negotiations and financing for the purchase. Over many months, the SBDC advisor helped her in preparing a written business plan and cash flow projections. She was given consulting advice on various aspects of operating the business and setting up a financial record keeping system. Further assistance included structuring a purchase deal and preparing a financial application package. Denise obtained a SBA guaranteed loan and purchased the business in July 2006. Thanks in part to the SBDC, Denise is now on a firm financial basis to move forward with ownership and expansion of this long-established business so vital to the local community. The employees of the prior owners are very happy to be employed at the same clinic with the vet they have know and worked with for many years. Denise is pleased with the outcome and says, “(the SBDC advisor) helped me tremendously through the process of purchasing and financing this business. I don’t think I could have done it without him. I am thrilled for this opportunity finally to own and operate my own vet clinic.”
